CLASS HISTORY

In the fall of '48 the class of '52 met with Mr. Davis and elected the following officers:

President ----------Carol Petry
Vice President ----------Rose Ann Troyer
Sec. -Treas. ----------John Thomas
Reporter ----------Marilyn Litwiller
Sponsor ----------Mr. Olinger

Carol Petry and Rose Ann Troyer were elected our freshman class representatives to the Student Council.

The class of '52 started with 32 members; when this first year ended, the class roll showed 30 members.

The class chose green and white as the class colors, the American Beauty Rose as the class flower, and "To thine own self be true" as the class motto. The class sweaters were ordered in October and received November 17.

The Biology classes went to Chicago to visit the Shedd Aquarium, the Museum of Science and Industry, and the Fields Museum on October 16.

October 19, the class was initiated into M. H. S. by the sophomores. Everyone enjoyed the party.

A box social was held February 14 to raise money for class tourney decorations and for the coming class party.

For class tourney Rose Ann Troyer, Marilyn Litwiller, and Richard Kehr were chosen yell leaders. We lost.

Then came our one lone class party on March 16.

In our second year of high school the following officers were elected at the first class meeting:

President ----------Carol Petry
Vice President ----------Rose Ann Troyer
Sec. -Treas. ----------Marilyn Litwiller
Reporter----------Laverle Berkey
Sponsor ----------Mr. Miller

Carol Petry and Robert Riegsecker were elected as representatives for the Student Council from the sophomore class.

The first class party was a welcome party for the freshmen. It was held at Beach Boomershine's.

The class decided to sell Christmas cards to raise more money. We were divided into two teams with the losers giving the winners a party, which was held at Jim Redman's.

The class's part in the Christmas program was two songs by a sextette and a reading by Louise Smith.

The class sponsored a courtesy week from March 6 to 10. The results were very good.

At the first meeting of our junior year, John Thomas and Glen Larimer were elected to the Student Council and the following class officers were elected:

President ----------Carol Petry
Vice President ----------Rose Ann Troyer
Sec. -Treas. ----------Marilyn Litwiller
Reporter----------Laverle Berkey
Sponsor ----------Miss Hoar

Our junior year we sold magazines to raise money. The class was divided into two teams to put the spirit of competition into the sale; the losers gave the winners a party which was held at Barbara Hart's.

Glen Larimer and Bud Kurtz were elected co-captains for the class tourney, and Marilyn Litwiller, Rose Ann Troyer and Laverle Berkey were chosen as yell leaders.

The class selected "Mama's Angel Child" as their class play which was given April 18.

"Southern Plantation" was the theme for the Junior-Senior Reception which was held in the gymnasium May 18.

In our fourth and final year of high school, the following class officers were elected:

President ----------Glen Larimer
Vice President ----------John Thomas
Sec. -Treas. ----------Richard Kehr, Bud Kurtz
Reporter----------Carlysle Chiddister
Sponsor ----------Mr. Vance

Carol Petry was elected President of the Student Council, and John Thomas, Richard Kehr, and Carlysle Chiddister were elected as representatives from the senior class.

We were honored to have an Exchange Student, Gertrud Heimel, with us during our senior year. Gertrud is from Germany and is residing with the Ernest Hartsough family. She is studying to be an agriculture teacher.

The senior play, "This Ghost Business," which was a big success was given October 23.

We had our senior pictures taken October 21.

Our first class party was held in the gym November 13.

The class was entertained by the Vances at dinner on February 23. Any of the seniors will be willing to vouch for Mrs. Vance's ability to cook. Cokes and mints finished up a very pleasant evening.

The senior trip was a jaunt to Detroit for two event-filled days, April 18th and 19th. The class had rooms in the Statler Hotel for the night.

Next came the reception for which the seniors say "Thank you" to the juniors. The reception was held May 2 at Elkhart.

The Baccalaureate held Sunday afternoon, May 18, was the next activity of the senior class.

Our class night program tonight leaves us with but one exercise left to do in M. H. S. and that is the one that all of us have long looked forward to -- Commencement. It will be held May 21.

JOKES

One day Mrs. Black was telling the speech class some examples of folk stories, narratives, and such. "Now take Sir Arthur of the Night Table----."

* * * * * * * * *

Gertie was sending a package back home one day and needed something to seal it with. She went to the office and asked, "Mr. Vance, may I have some scotch?"

* * * * * * * * *

Miss Saddler was explaining to the seventh graders how to prepare graphs for their daily assignment. "Now, kiddies," she said, "write the label across your bottom."

* * * * * * * * *

One day the advanced algebra class was deep in the discussion of parabolic curves. Mr. Vance, the teacher, was telling the group how to draw the curve. "It must be smooth," he said. Then, with a twinkle in his eye, added, "It must be smoootherized!"

Mr. Vance was calling on a member of the government class. "Tom, Tom Johnus, -----."

CLASS PROPHECY

In the spring of 1962, a gypsy caravan was rolling north to Indiana. Glen, my husband, and I were in that caravan. As the rolling plains of Indiana came into view, memories began running through my mind. Suddenly I turned to Glen and exclaimed, "Why not go back and visit Millersburg?" Needless to say, Glen agreed and we were on our way.

As we approached Millersburg, we were both startled - gone was the fire trap where "we" had gone to school. In its place stood a new modern building that far surpassed any others of Northern Indiana. School had just dismissed as we hurried to the principal's office. A tenor voice instructed us to come in. My husband and I looked at each other; where had we heard that voice before? We soon found out for as we stepped inside the office, there sat Carlysle Chiddister behind a big oak desk. After we had exchanged greetings with our former classmate, he took us on a tour of the school. Gone were the old school and all its memories. All we could see were rooms filled with smooth, neat desks. I wondered what had happened to the old desks with all our classmates' initials on them. How I longed for the old school back!

After saying good-bye to Carlysle, we went out to our wagon. We had seen Millersburg again. Silently, except for the creak of the wheels, we drove along a nearby country road. As we went around a jog in the road, we came to a farm with the name "John Thomas" painted on the barn. No sooner had I noticed the name on the barn when I saw a young woman leaving the chicken house carrying a basket of eggs. Now who do you suppose this woman was? You guessed it! The former Janice Rohrer. Recognizing Janice, we stopped to visit. From them, we learned that Rose Ann Troyer had married Glen Showalter and they were doing a thriving business on a large chicken farm near Elkhart. John also informed us that Bud Kurtz was No. 1 cowboy singer on the hit parade. "Shot Gun Boogie" was his most popular song. Over a million of his records had been sold.

John knew most of the news. He told us that Louise Smith was now manager at Newberry's 5 & 10 in Goshen. There had even been talk of promoting her to district manager.

Back on the road now, we headed for Chicago. As we approached the big city, we noticed posters advertising a coming attraction. Gertrud Heimel was to give a lecture entitled "Agriculture in Germany Today." Why Gertrud had graduated with us! Then and there Glen and I decided to attend. The day finally came, and with thousands of others we crowded into the large civic building in Chicago. After listening to a stirring lecture, we hurried backstage to congratulate Gertrud. However, someone had arrived before us. It was Carol Petry, now a famous phychologist, who had flown from New York to attend the lecture. The four of us talked over old times. Carol told us that she also does some interior decorating. Gertrud told us that the mayor of New York wanted Carol to have the best transportation service from New York to Chicago so he secured the best pilot of the Air Force to Pilot her out. Now you couldn't guess who this was. I knew you couldn't! It was Bill "Buckshot" Lewallen. Bill had been granted a special leave from his regular duties, which were testing jet planes, to bring Carol to Chicago. Carol had to get to the airport in fifteen minutes so we hurried out to hail a cab for her. The first cab that came along stopped. As the driver stepped out to open the door for Carol, we recognized him. It was Pete Manges, another classmate. Pete was so glad to see us that he invited Glen and me to ride along while he took Carol to the airport. During the ride we learned that Pete was married. Pete also told us that he had been writing to Steve Rippey. Steve is now an Admiral and has been placed in charge of the naval academy at Annapolis.

The next morning we left Chicago and headed south. As we started through the town of Kokomo, Indiana, I happened to remember that last Christmas I had received a card from the former Marilyn Litwiller and it had been postmarked Kokomo, Indiana. We decided to look her up. Marilyn is married to Melvin Slabach. We arrived just in time for supper. After supper we settled back to watch television. At 7:30, "The Fat Man" came on the screen. Glen and I were in for a big surprise; for instead of the fat man that we had known as children, the star of the show was none other than Jim Redman. Now we knew the whereabouts of all our former classmates and knew they were well and happy.

CLASS WILL

We, the Gypsies of the class of 1952, having been in camp here for 12 years, have collected great riches. Since we will not be using them in the future, we wish to will them to people who are less fortunate than we.

I, John Thomas, will my glasses to Mr. Nettleton for umpiring baseball games at M. H. S. Yours just don't seem to be able to see things our way, Mr. N.

I, Pete Manges, will my 1937 Chevrolet to M. H. S. for a squad car. This town could do with a little law and order, and I'm sure it will serve the purpose very well.

I, Jim Redman, will my big feet to anyone who needs a good foundation.

I, Carlysle Chiddister, will my ability to brag to Gordon Bates.

I, Richard Kehr, will my ability to skip school to Richard Martin. Doesn't it get a bit boring to be here almost every day, Richard?

I, Billy Lewallen, will my meager knowledge to anyone who thinks he can get by with it for another four years.

I, Sheldon Kurtz, will my ability to get my English to Milton Munro, who seems to be having troubles. Don't we all?

I, Steve Rippey, will my red hair to Larry Simmons. Redheads always get more girl friends than blonds, Larry.

I, Glen Larimer, will Laverle to Devon Lantzer; I am sure she will be well taken care of.

I, Carol Petry, will my ability to keep quiet to Pat Rookstool. It might help in the study hall, you know!

I, Rose Ann Troyer, will my size to Kathryn Kehr; I am sure a little help is better than none at all.

I, Louise Smith, will my gift of gab to anyone who wants it. It is still in excellent condition.

I, Laverle Berkey, will my good looks to any of the M. H. S. girls who are after a boy friend.

I, Marilyn Litwiller, will my ability to go steady to Bonnie Musselman.

I, Gertrud Heimel, will my accent to Lauretta Wilson. It does not hurt to have a little culture, you know.

This is the last will and testament of the class of '52 as drawn up by JIM REDMAN and PETE MANGES.

PHILOSOPHY OF THE GYPSIES

The sun is up; there's a cloudless sky;
A band of Gypsies are we,
Wandering over this wide, wide world
Gay and fancy free.

We've had fun around the camp fires,
In our councils and our flings.
We've had lots of joy and laughter
In our parties, games, and things.

But the sun will not always be shining.
The skies will sometimes be dark.
We will not always be gay
And free as a meadowlark.

So let us prepare for the future
With our hearts and minds on a goal,
Yet not forgetting our school days
As we step into our role.

So farewell, M. H. S.
We leave you in a mess!

SENIOR PLAY

The senior class presented "This Ghost Business" Oct. 23.

Joe Hardy and Eddie Canfield bought a cottage and took their wives, Laura and Mabel, to spend their vacation there. The cottage was said to be haunted and soon ghosts began to appear causing the colored cook much distress. After much ghostly goings-on, the ghosts turned out to be a tramp, whom Magnolia had konked on the head, the former owner of the cottage who was trying to make money on the deal, and Magnolia's boyfriend, Mose.

CAST

"The Great Ben Allah" was presented by the juniors Mar. 26.

Mrs. Aldrich employed silverware-stealing ex-convicts and kept garden-destroying cats and dogs, but she refused to let her daughter marry the man she loved because he was not a spiritualist. Here, her sister, Roberta, stepped in and disguised the daughter's fiance as a Hindu spiritualist. All went well until he hypnotized the butler and couldn't remove the spell. It ended with a seance and a lot of excitement.

CAST

Ben Allen ---------- Leroy Moser
Ed Weston ---------- Jo Prough
Ruth Aldrich, Ben's girlfriend ---------- Carol Hapner
Jessica Aldrich, Ruth's mother ---------- Lauretta Wilson
Roberta Houston, Jessica's sister ---------- Margaret Groff

SPORTS REVIEW

The Millers ended this year's season with a much better record than usual. They really came through and showed our fans some real good ball playing. Their record was 8 victories and 11 defeats. The boys played better ball than the record shows because most of the games lost were very close ball-games.

The Millers played some of their best games against Shipshewana, Concord, New Paris, and the last game played with Wakarusa.

The Millers averaged 52 points a game while the opponents averaged 54 points.

Floyd Lebold won the Free Throw Trophy this year by getting 76% of his free throws.

According to some reported, Carlysle Chiddister, who had an excellent season, broke the Millersburg scoring record.
